

FED:Regional Vic to get first P-Tech school

MELBOURNE, Aug 6 AAP - Students in regional Victoria could soon be leading the way in science and technology studies with the opening of Australia's first P-Tech college.

Prime Minister Tony Abbott is expected to announce detailed plans for the school, based on an American model, during a visit to Geelong on Thursday.

He is also expected to announce $14 million for a new Advanced Manufacturing Growth Centre at Deakin University.
